

How Bengal provided food and shelter for thousands of people fleeing Assam in '80s.

SABYASACHI BANDOPADHYAY

KOLKATA, AUGUST 10/-/ Even as chief minister Mamata Banerjee has asked the state administration to gear up for any situation in case of an influx of refugees from Assam following publication of NRC in that state, retired bureaucrats recall how the state government tackled a similar situation in 1980 when it provided food and shelter for people from Assam who fled the state following ethnic violence.

calls these tumultuous days when he had done everything to arrange for food and shelter for those hapless refugees. "In 1980 Assam witnessed a series of ethnic violence and scores of Bengali speaking people had to flee that state. Many of them came to Alipurduar where we set up camps for them," said Chakrabarty, recalling those days. "They mostly came by train and took shelter at railway stations and land adjacent to railway tracks. Later we built camps for them at two places, at Jashodanga and Dangli. While the first camp housed about 1,000 people, Dangli housed about 4,000 people," Chakrabarty told the Echo of India. The retired bureaucrat who carried out his job with considerable aplomb also says that the Left Front government under Jyoti Basu at that time did its best to provide for food and other amenities for the refugees. "Initially relief was provided by Bharat Sevashram Sangha and later the state government took over the responsibility. The government, in its third year of rule, was facing a funds crunch, but the refugee and rehabilitation department under Radhika Ranjan Banerjee did its best. Chief Minister Jyoti Basu promised all help. For food we gave rice, dal and sugar. We set up health camps. Some of them who were godaristans and skilled labourers found jobs in neighbouring areas and earned a good amount of money," he recalled. The former bureaucrat also recalled one incident when trouble broke out near Dangli camp. "The men at the camp were skilled and got jobs outside and that was what local people started resenting about it. One day at mid-night I got a call that a violent mob carrying sharp edged weapons and bows and arrows threatened the Dangli camp and the situation was quite serious. I rushed there with a huge police force and after talking to them brought the situation under control," Chakrabarty said.

TMC to take out rallies tomorrow across the state in protest against Assam's NRC draft, Kolkata has been exempted

The rallies will coincide with BJP President Amit Shah's rally at Mayo Road at Esplanade

KOLKATA, AUG 10/-/ The Trinamool Congress will take out rallies across the state tomorrow in protest against the publication of National Register of Citizens (NRC) in Assam, Partha Chatterjee, state minister for education and party secretary general today said at a media conference at Trinamool Congress Bhavan. The state capital, however, has been exempted from tomorrow's plan. TMC secretary-general and West Bengal Education Minister Partha Chatterjee said here today. BJP national president Amit Shah is set to address a rally at Mayo Road at Esplanade tomorrow. "Barring Kolkata, we will organise rallies across the state in protest against the NRC. A separate rally will be taken out in the capital city on Sunday," Chatterjee told reporters. The minister also accused the BJP-led Assam government of "deliberately omitting" Bengal from the NRC draft. The complete draft of NRC was published on July 30 in Assam with 2.89 lakh names out of 3.29 applicants. Over 40 lakh people did not make it to the list. "Lakhs of Bengalis have been omitted from the NRC draft. It has been done deliberately. We demand that these names be included in the list as they are also Indians. You cannot make a person refugee in his own country," Chatterjee added. Last week, the party had observed 'black day' across the state in protest against detention of its MPs at Silchar airport in Assam. Chatterjee also took a jibe at Shah's rally tomorrow. "They have no leaders here and that is why they are bringing leaders from outside the state," the senior party leader said. An eight-member TMC delegation that reached Silchar on August 2 to assess the situation in Assam in the wake of the NRC publication was not allowed to leave the airport. TMC supremo and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee had claimed that the delegation members were manhandled at the airport and accused the BJP of imposing "super emergency" in the country. Meanwhile the TMC today put up flexes and flags of the party all over the venue at Mayo Road today, that drew flak from BJP leadership.

Subhendu Adhikari spells out state gov't welfare schemes for tribal community, JDP leaders differ

SOUMYA DE SARKAR

MALDA, AUG 10/-/ Elaborating numerous developmental projects for the tribal community taken up by the state government, transport minister Subhendu Adhikari today said that West Bengal was the only state to monitor tribal welfare through an altogether separate department.

body Dulal Sarkar were present along with DM Kaushik Bhattacharya and SP Arnab Ghosh. "The tribal community of Bengal was ignored by the former state government. But since Mamata Banerjee took charge of the state, she adopted all possible measures to ensure their development. While in other states the issues pertaining to tribal development are dealt with by the backward class development department, Mamata Banerjee introduced tribal welfare department exclusively to supervise the community's development," Adhikari said. The Transport minister claimed that several measures were taken up by the state government to impart quality education to next generations of the tribal community. He referred to Ekshya Vidyalay and development of Jawarthan, a sacred place for the community in West Meghalaya. "Chief Minister has already declared that special drive would be made for appointment of tribal candidates. More schools would be opened where the medium of instruction would be Alchiki," Adhikari said.

officials and people's representative we have succeeded in eradicating the misconception sowed in their mind." While Adhikari was addressing a large gathering of tribal community leaders of Trinamool Party accused Trinamool of misleading the community. JDP leaders observed the day in a hall in Gazole block today. A leader of the party and former MP Sakhan Murrumsaid, "Like Congress and Left Front Trinamool Congress also did not do anything for tribal community. Sarna has not been recognized as the religion of tribals. Alchiki is not the medium of teaching in many schools of the state yet." He claimed that the international tribal day was being observed to win the heart of the community who turned their faces away from TMC in recent elections.
