Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee with (from left) actors Arindam Ganguly, Prasenjit Chatterjee and Saumitra Chatterjee...Shyamal Mitra

KOLKATA, AUG 23—/The deadlock between artists and producers of TV serials over regularisation of payment ended today, with Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee giving an assurance that a committee formed with representatives from both sides will "look into the issues". Shooting for the mega soapwines resumed tomorrow, she said. A conciliation committee, with state Youth Affairs Minister Aroop Biswas as the chairman and veteran actor Saumitra Chatterjee as chief adviser has been constituted to look into the problems of both sides," she said. The impasse had stalled shooting of serials for six days, forcing TV channels to repeat episodes.

Mamata, who holds meetings this afternoon with representatives of Artists' Forum and Welfare Association of Television Producers, also asserted that payments would be made by 15th of every month. Chatterjee and superstar Prasenjit Chatterjee were among others who represented the Artists' Forum at the meeting today. "Full-fledged shootings will resume from tomorrow morning. Thankfully, the problem has not aggravated much and we are happy that everything has been resolved," the CM said.

Stressing that thousands of people earn their livelihood from television and film industries, Mamata said the conciliation committee would hold meetings every month with the artists and technicians. "The committee will look into the complaints in this (TV) industry. They will see if the artists, technicians or anybody were being deprived of their rights," the chief minister said.

"We must not forget the employment opportunity in this industry. This is a very potential and popular industry. People watch entertainment channels more than news channels...I'm also an avid viewer," she said.

Saumitra Chatterjee, too, expressed satisfaction with the outcome of today's meeting at the secretariat building. "We are happy that the impasse has been resolved with the intervention of the chief minister. We thank her," he said.

Others who were also on the committee include Arindam Ganguly, Nispal Singh Rana, Saibal Banerjee, Sri Kanta Mohata, Swarup Biswas, Aparna Ghatak, Leena Gangopadhyay, all from the artists and producers, Channel Star Jalsha representative Sagnik Bose, Zee representative Samrat Ghosh, Colors Bangla representative Rahul Chakravarty.

The artists' Forum had been demanding salaries by 15th of every month and hourly payments if the shooting schedule exceeded 10 hours. "We must not forget the employment opportunity in this industry. This is a very potential and popular industry. People watch entertainment channels more than news channels...I'm also an avid viewer," she said.

SOUMIYA DE SARKAR
MALDA, 23 AUG—/Bringing the tribal community closer state government is now taking help of social communication media. As a part of the outreach programme leaders of tribal community were gifted with free mobile-phones by the superintendent of police Arbab Ghosh today. Chunarim Murmu, a tribal leader said that the policy would be helpful for communicating different schemes of state government to community members. 50 leaders of the community would use the mobile phones for linking the community members with the government.

"We have been told that different schemes launched by state government and ways to avail benefit from those would be communicated to us through the mobile. At the same time we would be passing the feedback of our community to the officials of the administration," Murmu added.

It has been learnt from the officials that the tribal leaders would generate WhatsApp groups where common members of the community would be benefited. Different issues and suggestions delivered at the groups would be discussed and addressed, if necessary.

Along with Ghosh, officials of district civil and police administrations were present at the programme. "The mobile phones would act like a bridge between us and the tribal community. We believe the issues concerned with tribal community would draw attention easily when delivered and discussed in WhatsApp groups," Ghosh said.
