Guj: Exodus of migrant workers continues; CM hits out at Rahul

AHMEDABAD, OCT 9 /--/ Hindi-speaking migrants continued to flee Gujarat Tuesday after attacks on them in several parts of the state, even as the ruling BJP and Opposition Congress engaged in blame game. Police, meanwhile, intensified patrolling in areas near industrial estates and places where migrant workers stay. Since the rape of a 14-month-old girl in Sabarkantha district on September 28 and the arrest of a labourer hailing from Bihar for the crime, six districts, most of them in north Gujarat, have seen sporadic incidents of violence against Hindi-speaking people. In a series of tweets, Chief Minister Vijay Rupani asked whether Congress president Rahul Gandhi will take action against his party's "own members who incited violence against the migrants in Gujarat".

The BJP has been blaming Congress MLA Alpesh Thakor and his outfit Gujarat Kshatriya-Thakor Sena for the outbreak of violence against Hindi-speaking people in the state. "Congress first incites violence against migrants. Congress President tweets to condemn this violence. Does the Congress President not have any shame?" Rupani said in a tweet.

"If the Congress President is against the violence in Gujarat, he needs to take action against its own members who incited violence against the migrants in Gujarat. Tweeting is not the solution, taking action is! But will he act?" he further tweeted.

Rupani said his government is "working hard to ensure trust and confidence among all citizens that they are safe and secure in Gujarat". "However, Congress President needs to be ashamed of tweeting this when his own party is inciting violence against migrants," he further said on the micro-blogging site. rahul had on Monday said that targeting migrant workers in Gujarat is "completely wrong" and he is totally against it. Taking to Twitter, he had said the root cause of violence is the closure of factories and unemployment in Gujarat due to which both the system and the economy are reeling. Thakor also said Tuesday that targeting of migrants is wrong and he is "totally against it", while trying to refute the BJP's allegations against his outfit.
