British govt should apologise for Jallianwala tragedy: London Mayor

AMRITSAR, DEC 6 /--/ The British government should apologise for the 1919 Jallianwala Bagh massacre in Amritsar, London Mayor Sadiq Khan said today, calling it a tragedy one "must never forget". Khan, who arrived in Amritsar on Tuesday, paid a rich tribute to those who died in Jallianwala Bagh incident. "It was incredibly moving to visit Jallianwala Bagh. Our thoughts are with all those who died. "It is time for the British government to finally apologise. The tragedy in 1919 on the eve of Vaisakhi is one we must never forget," Khan wrote in the visitors' book at the Jallianwala Bagh here. The massacre took place on April 13, 1919 when British troops commanded by Brigadier-General Reginald Dyer, opened fire at a crowd of unarmed people, on the harvest festival of Baisakhi. A large number of people died in the incident. The former British Prime Minister David Cameron, during his 2013 visit to Jallianwala Bagh, also condemned the tragedy and described it as a "deeply shameful incident" in British history. However, he stopped short of making any official apology. Wrapping up his first official tour to India, the London Mayor, earlier today, also paid obeisance at the holy shrine of Golden Temple.

During his visit, he participated in langar at the Golden Temple complex and showed keen interest in knowing how the food is prepared. Khan was also presented with a Siropa (robe of honour) by officials of the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee (SGPC). "It has been a privilege for me to be in Amritsar for the last 24 hours. The Golden Temple is a spiritual home for tens of thousands of Londoners of the Sikh faith and millions of Sikhs around the world come to Amritsar to pay their respects to worship," he said while talking to the reporters.

Also, sharing the same sentiments on the visitors' book of the Golden Temple, he wrote: "The warmth, hospitality , spirituality are a lesson to us all. Thank you for providing me with memories that will stay with me forever". On Tuesday evening, Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh hosted a dinner for the London Mayor in Amritsar. Khan, who was on a three-city tour to India, visited New Delhi, Mumbai and Amritsar to strengthen the UK's capital trade ties with India.(PTI)

SC reserves verdict on plea against bail to trustees of Ryan

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ The Supreme Court today reserved its verdict on a plea of the father of 7-year old boy, who was found dead in a Gurgaon school, seeking cancellation of the anticipatory bail granted to three trustees of the Ryan International Group. A bench of Justices R K Agrawal and A M Sapre reserved its verdict and said it will pass order on December 11. During the hearing, advocate Sushil Tekriwal, appearing for the father of victim Pradhuman, said the grant of anticipatory bail to the trustees of the group which runs the school by the Punjab and Haryana High Court was absolutely "illegal", "unwarranted", "unconstitutional" and "erroneous".

He said the murder of the class II student had taken place in the campus of Ryan International School and hence the order of the high court should be set aside. Tekriwal said the present case was rarest in nature keeping in view the manner in which the boy was killed. Advocate Sandeep Kapur, appearing for Ryan Pinto, Grace Pinto and A F Pinto, said the trustees were never directly involved in the administration of each school and only took policy decisions. "CBI was looking into the conspiracy angle for the murder of the boy in the school but has not found any evidence regarding the involvement of the respondents," he said.

Kapur said that merely on suspicion, a person cannot be arrested and put behind bars when he is in no manner related to an offence. He said the school authority and its management was fully cooperating with CBI in the matter and intended to help the investigating agency reach a conclusion regarding the commission of murder of the student inside the school. Kapur said recently the CBI has arrested a student of the school against whom it has collected evidence regarding commission of the crime. "The case and the plea of the CBI against the petitioners (Pintos) is same as it was on the date of passing of order granting anticipatory bail and no new plea or evidence has come on file of investigating agency connecting the petitioners with the crime in this case," he said.

Pradhuman was found with his throat slit in the school washroom in Gurgaon on September 8. School bus conductor Ashok Kumar was earlier arrested by Haryana Police in connection with the crime. He was recently granted bail by a lower court. The case was transferred to the CBI and the agency had apprehended a class 11 student in connection with the killing. Earlier, the apex court had agreed to hear the appeal seeking cancellation of anticipatory bail granted by the high court to three trustees of the Group. The high court had on November 21 granted anticipatory bail to Ryan International Group CEO Ryan Pinto and his parents -- founding chairman Augustine Pinto and managing director Grace Pinto, in connection with the killing of Pradhuman.(PTI)

Max Hospital case: Baby dies, father refuses to take body

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ A premature baby, who was found alive after being declared dead by Max Hospital, breathed his last today with his father refusing to take the body demanding arrest of the erring doctors. The boy died at a nursing home in Pitampura after battling for life for nearly a week.

On November 30, Ashish Kumar's wife gave birth to premature twins (boy and girl) at Max hospital in Shalimar Bagh. Both the babies were declared stillborn by the hospital and handed over to the family allegedly in a polythene bag. But to their utter horror, the family found that the boy was still alive, while they were on way to do their final rites.

The family rushed the baby to a nearby nursing home in Pitampura, while the mother remained at Max Hospital as she was very weak. Max Healthcare authorities today released a statement saying, "We just learnt of the sad demise of the 23-week preterm baby, who was on ventilator support." "Our deepest condolences are with the parents and other family members. While we understand that survival in extreme preterm births is rare, it is always painful for the parents and family. We wish them the strength to cope with their loss," it added. Aslam Khan, deputy commissioner of police (northwest), also confirmed the news.

However, Kumar has refused to take the body of his child, in an act of protest and demanded that the doctors of Max Hospital allegedly involved in the "medical negligence" in the case be arrested. "I will not take my son's body until the two doctors are arrested," Kumar told PTI. He also said he will also not get his wife, who is still admitted at Max Hospital, discharged from until they get justice. The baby's uncle said that they will continue to protest outside Max Hospital.

A panel formed by the Delhi government to look into the case yesterday found Max Hospital guilty of not following prescribed medical norms in dealing with newborn infants. On December 2, Delhi Health Minister Satyender Jain had said the hospital's licence could be cancelled if a probe found it guilty of medical negligence.

Max Healthcare on December 4 had said that it had decided to terminate the services of two doctors allegedly involved in the case.(PTI)

Gujarat poll has turned Rahul into a leader: Shiv Sena

MUMBAI, DEC 6 /--/ The Shiv Sena today said that the Gujarat Assembly poll campaign had transformed Rahul Gandhi into a leader and that the Congress vice-president's temple visits was a "win for Hindutva", which the BJP should welcome. Gandhi has been campaigning extensively in the election- bound state, where the first phase of polling will take place on Saturday. He has visited a number of temples in Gujarat, which his party believes would help counter the Hindutva platform of its rival. "The election, which is touted by the BJP to be a sure win, seems to have tired Prime Minister Narendra Modi, as it has turned Rahul Gandhi into a leader," the Sena, a long-time but often bickering partner of the BJP, said in an editorial in its mouthpiece 'Saamana' here.

"The polls have proved that Rahul Gandhi is not a Pappu anymore. The BJP should have a big heart and accept this," the party said. The position of the Congress across the country is bad, the Sena noted, adding "Gandhi will have to carve a way out of the dense fog of vilification and political maze the BJP has created for the party." "The BJP is even angry with Rahul Gandhi for his visits to temples and offering prayers. On the contrary, it should be welcomed. Rahul Gandhi visiting temples is a win of Hindutva. If he is taking the party towards Hindutva from bogus secularism, the Sangh should welcome it," the Sena said. Taking a dig at Modi for dubbing Gandhi's expected elevation as Congress president as "Aurangzeb Raj", the Sena said, "Such comments prove that the prime minister considers Rahul Gandhi as an opponent and that he has become an able leader."(PTI)

Yadav faction of JD(U) in HC again over Arrow symbol

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ K Rajasekaran, the newly appointed President of the Sharad Yadav faction of Janata Dal (United), today moved the Delhi High Court challenging qn Election Commission order rejecting their claim to the 'Arrow' symbol. Justice Indermeet Kaur adjourned the matter till tomorrow as the senior lawyer who was to represent Rajasekaran was not available today. The JD(U) leader has challenged the November 25 order of the poll panel giving reasons for recognising the faction led by Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar as the real JD(U) and allotting the 'Arrow' symbol to it. Kumar and Yadav had parted ways after the former decided to join hands with the BJP in July, triggering a battle for the control of the party.

The Sharad Yadav faction had earlier moved the high court against the EC's November 17 order which had ruled in favour of Kumar's faction with regard to which group was the real JD(U), but the poll panel had not given reasons for arriving at the decision. The poll panel gave a reasoned order on November 25. Rajasekaran, in his plea, has sought the setting aside of the November 25 order of EC. The earlier plea was moved by Gujarat MLA Chottubhai Vasava, who was the then acting president of the Yadav faction of the JD(U). Vasava's lawyer had told the court that the first phase of filing nominations for the Gujarat polls has got over and the second phase would be completed in another 10 days.

So, it has to be decided before that as to who will use the symbol in the upcoming elections, Vasava had contended in his plea. Kumar's faction had told the court that its members have already filed nominations with the 'Arrow' symbol as the EC had ruled in their favour. Following the rift with Kumar, Yadav had claimed that by ending the alliance with Lalu Prasad Yadav's RJD and deserting the greater 'grand alliance', Kumar had gone against the party's national executive's decision to oppose the BJP. As the rift widened, Yadav held a 'national executive' conclave of the JD(U) here where Vasava was appointed the acting president.

Vasava, who is also the Gujarat unit party chief and a six-term MLA, had approached the ECI staking claim over the party and its poll symbol 'Arrow'. Yadav has all along maintained that the faction led by him was the real JD(U). The ECI, in its November 17 order, had said the group led by Kumar "has demonstrated overwhelming majority support" in the legislature wing as well as the majority in the national council of the party, which is the apex organisational body of the JD(U). However, Vasava's counsel had contended that the EC had relied on the "disputed" election of the national council and said that the party led by Yadav was the real JD(U).(PTI)

Rahul says not like Modi, can err, after mistakes pointed out in tweet

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ Congress leader Rahul Gandhi today took a swipe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi, saying that "unlike Narendrabhai" he was human and could err, as he thanked his "BJP friends" for pointing out wrong figures in one of his tweets. The Congress vice president had put out a tweet yesterday carrying erroneous percentages to depict a rise in the prices of essential commodities in a graphic and asked the prime minister whether his government was "for the rich". "For all my BJP friends: unlike Narendrabhai, I am human. We do make the odd mistake and that's what makes life interesting. Thanks for pointing it out and please do keep it coming, it really helps me improve. Love you all," he tweeted. The figures in the graphic, corrected shortly after the mistakes were pointed out on social media sites, were meant to have shown the differences in the prices of commodities between 2014 and 2017. Gandhi has been posing a question a day to the prime minister in the run-up to the Gujarat assembly elections on Twitter, over promises made by the BJP government in the state.(PTI)

Vice President, M. Venkaiah Naidu addressing the gathering after inaugurating the 12th Annual Convention of the Central Information Commission, in New Delhi.

Naidu rejects criticism of Sharad disqualification decision

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ Rajya Sabha Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu today rejected criticism of his swift decision to disqualify rebel JD(U) MPs Sharad Yadav and Ali Anwar, saying justice delayed is justice denied and such matters should not be left pending. Addressing the 12th annual convention of Central Information Commission (CIC), he asked the commissioners to also work in such manner and make "sincere efforts" towards speedy disposal of cases registered with them. "Yesterday, I passed an order on disqualification within three months and then I gave the strong opinion at the end saying such decisions should be decided in around three months because the disqualifications (plea) itself that have been filed, some of them are pending for years," Naidu said.

He said he thought his decision would be welcomed by the people across the country. "Of course, people are welcoming but some people are asking 'why the chairman has given the order just in three months'," he added. Stressing that "justice delayed is (justice) denied", Naidu asked the information commissioners to provide "timely and correct" information to the citizens. On December 4, Naidu disqualified the two JD(U) rebels from the Rajya Sabha on a plea filed by the party on September 2 for their disqualification after they revolted against party chief Nitish Kumar's decision to ally with the BJP.

In his order, Naidu had said that disqualification of a member of legislature should be decided by the presiding officer in about three months to thwart political defections. CPI(M) general secretary Sitaram Yechury had questioned what he called the "mind-boggling" speed with which the plea was decided by Naidu. Naidu had said that such applications were dragged with a view to save the membership of the persons, who have otherwise incurred disqualification or even to save the government, which enjoys majority only because of such type of persons.(PTI)

ED questions Misa Bharti's husband in Rs 8,000 cr money laundering case

NEW DELHI, DEC 6 /--/ The Ed today again questioned RJD MP Misa Bharti's husband Shailesh Kumar in connection with a Rs 8,000 crore money laundering case, official sources said. Kumar has been summoned again to seek more information in the case and also to record his statement, they said. He and his wife Misa Bharti, daughter of Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) chief Lalu Prasad, have been grilled in the past too in this case. Kumar, the sources said, will be confronted with the documents seized by the ED till now in the case and the statements given by his wife and other accused, they said.

Both Kumar and Misa Bharti are being questioned by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) for their alleged role in a firm, Ms Mishail Printers and Packers Private Limited, their other finances and links with a chartered accountant who arrested by the agency earlier in the case. The agency filed a charge sheet in this case before a Delhi court sometime back and it was expected to file a fresh one soon. Misa, it is understood, could also be summoned again. The ED had on July 8 conducted searches at three Delhi farmhouses of Bharti, Kumar and the firm.

The agency had attached a farm house in Palam sometime back and it was now probing the alleged slush funds used to purchase this asset by the couple, they said. The latest summons to Kumar are related to a Rs 8,000 crore money laundering probe being conducted by the agency against two Delhi-based businessmen brothers -- Surendra Kumar Jain and Virendra Jain, and others, who are alleged to have laundered several crores of rupees using over 90 shell companies. The Jain brothers were arrested by the ED earlier under the Prevention of Money Laundering Ac (PMLA). One of the firms that the arrested duo dealt with was Ms Mishail Printers and Packers Private Limited. Bharti and her husband are alleged to have been directors of this firm in the past.

According to ED officials, it was found that 1,20,000 shares of M/s Mishail Printers and Packers Private Limited were bought during 2007-08 at a rate of Rs 100 per share by four shell companies - M/s Shalini Holdings Limited, M/s Ad- Fin Capital Services (India) Pvt. Ltd, M/s Mani Mala Delhi Properties Pvt. Ltd. and M/s Diamond Vinimay Pvt. Ltd. These 1,20,000 shares, they said, were allegedly bought back by Bharti at Rs 10 per share. The ED had arrested Rajesh Agarwal, a chartered accountant allegedly linked to Bharti, who provided accommodation entries (black funds) of about Rs 60 lakh to M/s Mishail Printers and Packers Private Limited. The searches, officials said, were part of investigations to unravel these links which allegedly routed black money using the shell companies in question.

Shell companies are firms set up with nominal paid up capital, high reserves and surplus on account of receipt of high share premium, investment in unlisted companies and no dividend income or high amount of cash-in-hand. The ED is the third agency probing alleged financial irregularities by the Lalu Prasad family after the CBI and the Income Tax department which recently attached benami assets worth about Rs 180 crore (market value) in its investigation against them.

The ED is also probing the Lalu Prasad family in another money laundering case pertaining to his tenure as the railway minister during the UPA-I government and has questioned his wife Rabri Devi and son Tejashwi Yadav as part of this separate invesigation recently.(PTI)
