

Saeed's detention sparks protests in Pakistan

ISLAMABAD, JAN 31/-/JUD chief Hafiz Saeed's detention may help ease Indo-Pak tension, media here said today even as supporters of the Mumbai attack mastermind launched protests across major cities in the government's decision which they say was taken under pressure from the US and India.

Saeed, who was detained yesterday at his Lahore headquarters, has been shifted to his residence which has been declared as a sub-jail by authorities in Punjab province.

The provincial authorities have also started to remove the banners of Jamaat-ud-Dawa (JUD) from the roads of Lahore.

National flags have been hoisted at the JUD offices in Lahore, instead of party flags, on the directives of the provincial home department.

As he was placed under house arrest, his supporters launched protests in cities like Islamabad, Lahore and Karachi. "The detention of Hafiz Saeed could help ease tensions between nuclear-armed foes Pakistan and India, although Delhi has not yet responded," Express Tribune commented.

It said that the 2008 Mumbai attack brought Pakistan and India to the brink of war after 10 gunmen killed 166 people in a rampage that included attacks on two luxury hotels, a Jewish center and a train station.

Saeed has denied any role in the attack and has distanced himself from LeT, while leading his charity JUD. Supporters accused Nawaz Sharif government of succumbing to the wishes of the US, which has offered a USD 10 million reward for information leading to Saeed's arrest. "This government has buckled under the pressure," JUD spokesman Nadeem Awan said who also accused India of pressuring the government.

Another spokesperson, Farooq Azam, announced protests in Karachi by "different religious and Kashmiri leaders". The paper said a senior Pakistan defence ministry official said Islamabad had not been contacted by the new administration of US President Donald Trump but had been feeling US pressure on the issue. "Trump is taking hard decisions against Muslim countries, there is open talk of actions against Pakistan also. So yes, and India, although Delhi has not yet responded," Express Tribune commented.

Other government officials have said recently that a broader diplomatic campaign pushed by India to isolate Pakistan has taken a toll, even involving pressure from long-time ally China.

Four days back, Punjab's Ministry of Interior had included names of Saeed and four others - Abdullah Ubaid, Zafar Iqbal, Abdur Rehman Abid and Qazi Kashif Niaz - in the Watch List as per UNSC 1267 Sanctions and ordered their preventive detention.

Ubaid, Iqbal, Abid and Niaz were also taken into preventive custody. Pakistani media reported, Punjab government's action comes amidst pressure from Pakistan from the Trump administration that it must take action against JUD and Saeed to avoid sanctions.

JUD is the front for the banned Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) terrorist outfit which is responsible for numerous terror attacks in India, including the Mumbai terror strike of November 26, 2008, which was masterminded by Saeed.

JUD has already been declared as a foreign terrorist organisation by the United States in June 2014. Earlier, Saeed was put under house arrest after the Mumbai attack, but was released about six months later in June 2009 after a court order. (PTI)

Detention a 'policy decision' in Pak's interest: Army

RAWALPINDI/LAHORE, JAN 31/-/An unusual move, Pakistan's army today said the detention of the Mumbai attack mastermind Hafiz Saeed was a "policy decision in the national interest" as the government announced that the Jamaat-ud-Dawa leader's 90-day house arrest could be extended if required.

"The detention is a policy decision taken in the national interest. The relevant department may give more information in a day or two and the situation will become clearer," Military spokesman Major General Asif Ghafoor told reporters here.

Saeed and four other JUD leaders were put under house arrest after order of detention was issued by Punjab Province's Interior Ministry yesterday in pursuance to a directive from the Federal Interior Ministry on January 27. His aides - Abdullah Ubaid, Zafar Iqbal, Abdur Rehman Abid and Qazi Kashif Niaz - were detained and placed under house arrest in the national interest," the government headquarters.

"Although they belong to different districts of Punjab but the government has decided to place them under arrest in one house in Lahore," a senior police officer told reporters here. The government has detained Saeed and four other JUD and Falaha-I-Insanay (FIP) leaders for 90 days with effect from January 30 but this detention may further be extended on completion of this period if required, "an interior ministry official said. "The government may take some further steps against the JUD and its sister organisations in coming days," he said, adding that the names of several JUD and FIP activists have been placed on Exit Control List to stop them from leaving the country.

Maj Gen Ghafoor said Pakistan wants peace with India and resolution of all issues including Kashmir through talks held on the basis of self-respect and honour, but it should not be considered as weakness. "We want the Kashmir issue to be resolved via United Nations resolutions and dialogue, but this desire for peace should not be misconstrued as a weakness," he said.

After the Punjab Home Department declared Saeed's Jauhar Town Lahore residence as a sub-jail, the JUD chief was shifted there from his headquarters at Al-Qadisa Chaurjuri town. First Saeed was allowed by police to hold a press conference before he left for his home along with dozens of his supporters amid high police security.

My arrest will give fresh impetus to Kashmiris struggle: Saeed

LAHORE, JAN 31/-/A defiant JUD chief Hafiz Saeed said his detention would give his movement a "fresh impetus to the Kashmiris' struggle against India" as the Mumbai attack mastermind was placed under a 90-day house arrest which the government today indicated could be extended.

Saeed was detained yesterday at JUD's Lahore headquarters at Masjid Al-Qadisa Chaurjuri and was later shifted to his Jauhar Town residence which has been declared as a sub-jail by authorities in Punjab province. "The government has detained Saeed and four other JUD and Falaha-I-Insanay (FIP) leaders for 90 days with effect from January 30 but this detention may further be extended on completion of this period if required," an interior ministry official told PTI. The government may take some further steps against the JUD and its sister organisations in coming days," he said, adding that the names of several activists of JUD and FIP, a charity run by Saeed, have been placed on Exit Control List to stop them from leaving the country.

Saeed and four other JUD leaders were taken into custody and placed under house arrest following order of detention was issued by Punjab Province's Interior Ministry yesterday in pursuance to a directive from the Federal Interior Ministry on January 27. "Although they belong to different districts of Punjab but the government has decided to place them under house arrest in one house in Lahore," he said. Saeed, who was allowed to hold a press conference before he left for his home along with dozens of his supporters amid high police security, said, "My detention order has come from Washington and not Islamabad."

"If someone is placed under house arrest will help check freedom movement in Kashmir he is living in a fool's paradise. My arrest will give a fresh impetus to the Kashmiris' struggle against India," he said.

69-year-old Saeed runs the charity run by Minister Narendra Modi thinks that he would get respect in Kashmir after his arrest. He is seriously misquoted, "an interior ministry official told PTI. The government may take some further steps against the JUD and its sister organisations in coming days," he said, adding that the names of several activists of JUD and FIP, a charity run by Saeed, have been placed on Exit Control List to stop them from leaving the country.

The opposition, led by cricketeer-turned-politician Inamra Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-I-Insaf, said the Sharif government has taken the step on the pressure of US President Donald Trump and Modi government. According to the Punjab Home Department notification, "Both JUD and FIP are engaged in certain activities which could be prejudicial to peace and security and in violation of Pakistan's obligations to the United Nations Security Council Resolution. And accordingly both organisations have been placed in the Second Schedule of Anti-Terrorism Act 1997." Similarly, it said JUD chief Saeed is engaged in certain activities which could be prejudicial to peace and security. "He is placed in the Fourth Schedule of Anti-Terrorism Act 1997 and put under detention for a period 90 days," it said.
