

Chinese spy tried to steal aviation, aerospace secrets: US

WASHINGTON, OCT 11 /--/ The US Justice Department said on Wednesday it had arrested and indicted a spy for China's Ministry of State Security on charges of economic espionage and attempting to steal trade secrets from several US aviation and aerospace companies. Chinese operative Yanjun Xu was detained in Belgium in April after a Federal Bureau of Investigation probe and extradited to the United States on Tuesday. The Washington Post reported he was lured to Belgium by U.S. agents. The FBI called it an unprecedented extradition and said the indictment showed the direct oversight of China's government in economic espionage against the United States. The charges come as Washington increases pressure on Beijing over its trade policies and alleged theft of US intellectual property.

Cybersecurity experts said the arrest was another sign of the escalating trade tensions between the two countries, adding they had seen increasing espionage by Beijing for business advantage. "China is actively engaging in targeted and persistent intrusion attempts against multiple sectors of the economy, including biotech, defence, mining, pharmaceutical, professional services, transportation and more," said CrowdStrike Chief Technology Officer Dmitri Alperovich. A US Department of Justice statement said Xu, a deputy division director for the State Security Department of China's Jiangsu province, targeted several US aerospace companies, including GE Aviation, a subsidiary of General Electric Co. It described another unnamed firm as "one of the world's largest aerospace firms, and a leading manufacturer of commercial jetliners and defence, space and security systems," and a third as a leader in unmanned aerial vehicle technology. GE Aviation has supplied engines for large Boeing

Co and Airbus SE aircraft, and is working on a new generation of engines for commercial planes and heavy-lift military helicopters. The indictment against Xu said he targeted aviation firms since around December 2013. It also said he made contact with experts working for the firms and recruited them to travel to China, often for the initial purpose of delivering a university presentation and paying their costs and a stipend. "This unprecedented extradition of a Chinese intelligence officer exposes the Chinese government's direct oversight of economic espionage against the United States," the statement quoted Bill Priestap, the FBI's assistant director for counterintelligence, as saying. John Demers, the assistant US attorney general for national security, said the case was not an isolated incident. "It is part of an overall economic policy of developing China at American expense," he said. "We cannot tolerate a nation stealing our firepower and the fruits of our brainpower." The Chinese Embassy and Xu's lawyers did not immediately respond to requests for comment. The maximum penalty for conspiracy and attempt to commit economic espionage is 15 years, while that for conspiracy and attempt to steal trade secrets is 10 years. The Ministry of State Security is China's intelligence and security agency and is responsible for counterintelligence, foreign intelligence and political security. Cybersecurity experts said former US President Barack Obama and Chinese President Xi Jinping had reached an understanding in 2015 on cyber espionage, but the agreement appeared to be withering away. Chris Painter, the former US State Department official who negotiated the agreement, said in a Twitter post it was "not surprising that now the relationship has deteriorated, so has the agreement."

US Senators call on Trump to order probe into missing Saudi journalist

WASHINGTON, OCT 11 /--/ More than 20 top US Senators have asked President Donald Trump to order an investigation into Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi's whereabouts and impose sanctions against anyone found responsible for his mysterious disappearance. In a letter to Trump, the 22 lawmakers triggered the 2016 Global Magnitsky Act, which gives the President 120 days to decide whether to impose sanctions on any foreign person he determines sponsored or was involved in the disappearance of 59-year-old Khashoggi, an outspoken critic of the Saudi government and Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman. Khashoggi, a US resident, vanished on October 2 after entering the Saudi consulate in Istanbul. Turkish authorities suspect he was abducted and murdered by the Saudis. But Riyadh insists that the journalist had left the building and that murder claims are "baseless".

taken up the case of the journalist and demanded all answers into his disappearance of from the Saudi authorities. In the letter to Trump, the Senators said the disappearance of the Washington Post columnist suggested that he could be a victim of a gross violation of internationally recognised human rights. The violations include "torture or cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment, prolonged detention without charges and trial, causing the disappearance of persons by the abduction and clandestine detention of those persons, and other flagrant denial of the right to life, liberty, or the security of person." "Therefore, we request that you make a determination on the imposition of sanctions pursuant to the Global Magnitsky Human Rights Accountability Act with respect to any foreign person responsible for such a violation related to Mr Khashoggi," the lawmakers said.

Trump on Wednesday said he had

Earthquake of magnitude 7 hits Papua New Guinea: USGS

SYDNEY, OCT 11 /--/ A magnitude 7.0 earthquake struck remote New Britain island in Papua New Guinea on Thursday, the United States Geological Survey said, though there were no immediate reports of damage. The quake hit about 200 km (125 miles) southwest of the town of Rabaul at a depth of almost 40 km, just before 7 a.m. local time (2100 GMT Wednesday). "We felt the earthquake a bit, but it was not too strong," Constable Roy

Michael told Reuters by phone from Rabaul police station. He said there was no damage in the town, but officers had not yet been able to contact villages closer to the epicentre. The Pacific Tsunami Warning Centre said waves less than

0.3 metre high could be expected on coastlines in Papua New Guinea and neighbouring Solomon Islands. Australia's Tsunami Warning Centre said its coastlines were not at risk. The quake was initially

Trump praises Haley, says she will make money

WASHINGTON, OCT 11 /--/ Describing Indian-American Nikki Haley as an "extraordinary person", President Donald Trump has said the outgoing US ambassador to the UN is "going to make a lot of money" in the private sector, which she intends to join. Haley, 46, the first Indian-American to hold a Cabinet-ranking position in any US presidential administration, tendered her resignation Tuesday, which Trump accepted. She had hinted in her resignation letter that she headed to the private sector after two years at the UN and, before that, six years as South Carolina's governor. She is likely to stay in the position till the year-end so that her successor could be nominated and confirmed by the Senate. Trump exuded confidence that Haley would return to his administration in some capacity at some point.

"Nikki is going to be here until the end of the year. Nikki is our friend. She has been great. I want whoever it is to spend some time with Nikki before Nikki goes out and gets herself a job, and hopefully does - she's going to make a lot of money. And I think Nikki will come back in some form too. But she's an extraordinary person, good person," Trump told reporters at the White House on Wednesday. Trump told reporters that he was considering the name of four-five persons as her replacement. One of them being Dina Powell (45), the former deputy national security adviser to Trump. Asked about the timing of Haley's resignation, that too just before the mid-term polls, Trump said nothing much should be read into this. "There's no good time. I mean, there could be no good time. She told me about this a long time ago. And, frankly, it's almost four weeks. So, it's not that bad. No, I don't think so at all. I thought it was very elegantly done," he said. "If she waited until after, then they'd say, 'Oh, she's in a know, if we win, they'd say, why is she doing it. And if we lose, they'd say, oh, well, that's obvious why she's doing it. Okay?' So there's really no good time to it," the President added.
