BJP, TMC workers' killing in West Bengal triggers fresh face-off between parties

KOLKATA, OCT 22—/The killing of a BJP and a TMC worker in two separate incidents in Birbhum district of West Bengal has triggered a fresh round of battle between the two parties with both blaming each other for the killings. The body of BJP worker Tapas Bagdi was found hanging from a tree in a village of Birbhum district, while TMC block president Dipak Ghosh was shot dead by unidentified assailants in the Khayrasole area of the same district Sunday night, police said. Bagdi's family members said he had left the house after lunch. As he did not return home by night, his family started searching for him and found his body hanging from a tree. The BJP Birbhum district leadership claimed Bagdi was a party worker. Ananda Bagdi, father of the deceased, lodged a complaint at the Lalpur police station against five local TMC workers alleging that they killed his son, police said. The district TMC leaders denied the allegations and said, "Our workers were not at all involved in this case." Superintendent of Police (SP), Birbhum, Kunal Agarwal said the cause of Bagdi's death would be known only after a post-mortem. "We are now treating it as a case of unnatural death. We don't know whether the person was affiliated to any political party," the SP said. On the Dipak Ghosh murder case, he said that several people have been detained for interrogation. BJP state president Dilip Ghosh said the TMC had let loose a "reign of terror" across the state and was trying to annihilate BJP workers. "The TMC is trying to kill our party workers. Our party workers are either harassed, threatened or killed just 30-35 minutes after the meeting with the BJP. This is really shameful," he said. The incident brought back memories of two BJP workers found hanging in West Bengal's Purulia district on June 2 and May 31 respectively. After the panchayat polls concluded in the state, the central BJP unit had held nation-wide agitation to protest against the killing of two Dalit workers. BJP national president Anurupa Thakur also held a rally in Purulia to protest against the killing and had called for defacing the TMC in the state. TMC Khayrasole block president Dipak Ghosh who was shot at Sunday night by unidentified persons passed away at a private hospital Monday, police said. Ghosh was riding a motorcycle with a party worker when unidentified persons fired at him near Khayrasole village. Ghosh received bullet injuries to his shoulder and the lower parts of the body. Birbhum district TMC president Anurupa Mondal alleged that goons hired by the BJP attacked Ghosh. BJP district president Krishna Roy denied the allegations and claimed that the killing was a result of the TMC's infighting. Roy's wife said the police should state president Ghosh who claimed that Birbhum

TMC's masterstroke on Vijaya Dashami wins hearts of BJP, Cong and CPM leaders

NORTH DINAJPUR, OCT 22—/Hoping in view of the example set by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, who sent Durga Puja gifts to her arch-rival and predecessor Buddhadeb Bhattacharjee and his spouse, Trinamooli Youth Congress (TMYC) activists of Kaliaganj started reaching leading people of the society across parties to convey Vijaya greetings. Although surprised by such unexpected gestures by youth workers of the ruling party, the Congress, CPM and BJP leaders also embraced setting an example of political-harmony that is not very common. Anirban Chakraborty, president of Kaliaganj TMYC and his deputy Rajib Saha knocked the doors of Congress MLA Pramathanath Roy, CPM councillor of Kaliaganj vice president Gouranga Das and other leaders of opposition parties in packets of sweets and flower bouquets. Prior to greeting the opposition leaders, the TMYC leaders of Kaliaganj also met Kartik Pal, chairman and Basanta Roy, vice chairman of Kaliaganj municipality and warmly thanked them on account of the Vijaya.

"I was surprised to see the TMYC leaders knocking doors of my residence today. To my utter surprise, they conveyed sweets and flower bouquets to me and my family members and conveyed Vijaya wishes to us. I am touched by such gesture of political-harmony," said Congress MLA S. M. Majumdar, district BJP vice president Gouranga Das and other leaders of opposition parties. Leaders of Kaliaganj also met Kartik Pal, chairman and Basanta Roy, vice chairman of Kaliaganj municipality and warmly thanked them on account of the Vijaya.

'Birth Day Forecast'

A good year ahead for you as Mercury semi-square Saturn on your solar return chart. Being friendly and quick in decision making, you will create many admirers for yourself in your professional circuit. Your juniors may seek your advice in critical times to deliver efficient work. It is advisable for you not to get involved in office politics. You need to spend more time with your partner for the betterment of your marital relationship. If you are not married, you may need to take care of the emotional outburst of your beloved.

Lucky dates: 5, 14, 23
Lucky days: Tuesday, Friday, Sunday
Lucky colours: Brown, Green, Gold
'Forecast for Today'

Aries: (March 21 - April 20) : Your big ideas about making money don't sound as good once you sit down to think them over today. You want your schemes to hold up under scrutiny, but they don't. Rather than lingering in buyer's remorse, you can simply walk away from a project that's never been started. Thankfully, there are many other potential ventures vying for your attention now.

Taurus: (April 21 - May 21) : You're more sensitive to the needs of others now. However, being aware of someone else's perspective doesn't mean much unless you're willing to act on your convictions. If you don't know how to help, just ask. The best of intentions can't stand up in trouble if your assumptions are false. Like Maya Angelou wrote, "You can't use up creativity. The more you use, the more you have."

Gemini: (May 22 - June 21) : You might feel alienated from your world today, even if there are a variety of activities to keep you socially involved. You will be trying all day to come out of your protective shell. You like the idea of interacting with others, but there's a barrier to overcome. Don't try to check back into the real world until you're ready. The timing is for you to decide, not anyone else.

Cancer: (June 22 - July 22) : Your friends are your connection to the future today, so set aside some quality time to hang out with those who know you best. Sharing your dreams brings them manifesting more power to you or you receive validation. Instead, use your visions and ideas as the grist for the mill of friendship. Your goal is to deepen long-term relationships based upon shared experiences.

Leo: (July 23 - August 23) : Take advantage of every opportunity to contemplate your current situation versus your objectives in life. There's much to be gained from cultivating a healthy relationship with your own body and mind. Although you might feel more vulnerable now, you are also cast in a charming light. Readily might attract the eye, but your good-natured personality captures the heart.

Virgo: (August 24 - September 22) : You will begin to see some delays lift, mainly related to finances and partnerships. For some, health matters clear up, and you start to feel more comfortable. You are likely to experience second chances and plenty of time to enjoy yourself in the weeks ahead. Personal appeal increases. Progress will be particularly apparent starting in next few days.

Libra: (September 23 - October 23) : Lately, you have learned a lot about what you want, and you are beginning to see some delays lift and projects or relationships move forward. You may have felt rather misunderstood or in a state of limbo lately, and now some of those problems unfold. However, this can be more waiting and looking to the past before you feel unfettered progress.

Scorpio: (October 24 - November 22) : If possible, it may be best to treat today as a time of rest and renewal. The current planetary configuration encourages sticking with familiar situations, places, and people so that you can build your strength. This can affect your intimate relationships, debts, and money, and some delays are likely to lift going forward. In other words, you may not know what you truly want, need, and value temporarily, making major decisions a little risky at this time.

Sagittarius: (November 23 - December 21) : While you are likely to see some forward movement in various projects and relationships, you can feel a little disorienting, and judgment of value may be off. The wild planetary energy continues to shake things up today, requiring us to go along for the ride. You may feel eager to act on your dreams today. However, you focus may shift from personal issues to more global concerns.

Capricorn: (December 22 - January 20) : You're on a roll and there's not much that can slow you down today. However, your high level of self-confidence doesn't necessarily make you right. Be careful; you can react to a situation so fast that you jump to a conclusion before you have all the facts. Although you might see a shortcut, it's still prudent to take the regular route that gives you time to logically process the incoming information.

Aquarius: (January 21 - February 18) : You might believe you're starting at the edge of a metaphysical awakening and your impatience is making you crazy. You can't concentrate on the present moment because your mind is already in the future where life is better than it is now. Ironically, your heightened anticipation prevents you from taking the next step in your spiritual development.

Places: (February 19 - March 20) : Rather than thinking about your potential growth, the current planetary configuration brings your thoughts back to your current circumstances. True enlightenment is not something to aspire toward; it's how you live your life every single minute of every single day. Author Libba Bray writes, "Your mind is not a cage. It is a garden and it requires cultivating." Let your thoughts fly high.

Dancing her way out of fear: tale of hope from Kolkata's red-light area

NEW DELHI, OCT 22—/Born in a red-light area in an abject poverty, she was married to an abusive man when she was 16 and fought to get custody of her son. The odds were stacked impossibly high, but Uma Didi fought back and is today a much sought after dance teacher. Just 25, she also manages a unit to help women in the red-light area in West Bengal's capital Kolkata. Walking firmly on the path towards independence and empowerment, Uma Didi, as she is known, is a beacon of hope for other young women in Munshiganj who, like her, refuse to be sucked into the vortex of flesh trade.

"My mother was sold to a brothel. I was born in a red-light area in West Bengal. I have seen fear in the eyes of young girls. My mother fought tooth and nail to protect me from the flesh trade," Uma told PTI from Kolkata. When she was 19, Uma witnessed a sex worker being burnt alive by a customer over a paltry sum of money and decided she would not allow young lives to go up in flames. The activist saw hope in dance and used it as a potent tool to hit back at patriarchy and poverty. She joined Apne Aap Women Worldwide, a charitable trust. Apne Aap was founded by 22 women from Mumbai's red light district, with a vision of a world where no woman could be bought or sold. Undeterred by threats from pimp, brothel owners and others, Uma uses dance therapy to help girls of the red-light area choose a life of dignity. She also runs a dance troupe, teaches Rabindranath Tagore, a classical based dance form invented and devised by Rabindranath Tagore, to girls in the area. Uma learnt the dance form at Kolkata Sangeet, an NGO which uses Dance Movement Therapy (DMT) as an alternative approach to counselling, psycho-social rehabilitation, self-expression and empowerment. The unique therapy model is designed to heal and empower individuals from a r g i n a l s e d communities, including survivors of gender-based violence and at-risk children and youth. "I always wanted a dance. It is my salvation. Today, as a part of Apne Aap, I teach dance to girls of my area. We also run a sanitary pad making unit. Girls are also taught to make jute bags. These girls are often scoffed for the work they do, but what they need is an avenue to earn their livelihood with dignity,"
